VOL. II.

FEBRUARY, 1917.

No. 2.

A Rare Argentina 2-Real Piece.

Some time after Argentina had declared her independence, she began in 1813 the coinage at Potosi of pieces of various denominations, to which we have already referred in an extended article in the May, 1916, issue of the BULLETIN. In 1815 another issue of silver coins of the same denominations—from one-half real to eight reals—was also struck at the Potosi mint. No other regular silver or gold coinage of Argentina is known until 1824, when gold coins of the denomination of 2 escudos and silver coins of one and two reals were issued at the Rioja mint. However, there are known two silver coins of irregular issue, both of the rarest character, one of which (the piece illustrated above) bears distinctly the mark of Rioja, while the second is a silver real attributed to Santiago del Estero. Both of these towns are in the Provinces of the Plate River, now Argentina. The two-real piece of Rioja bears the date of 1822, and is of the general style adopted by the Spanish Royalists during the wars for independence in South America. The detailed history of the period between 1815 and 1824 in Argentina is somewhat hazy, so far as we can get information from our English histories, but the piece referred to seems to indicate that the Spanish Royalists issued the piece during a temporary occupation of the town of Rioja, which is located in the mining section of Argentina, and in 1824 was the scene of the coinage for the independent government. The mint at Rioja remained in operation for many years after, nearly every year striking gold and silver coins for the government of Argentina. The above specimen is in the collection of David Proskey, and is the only one known with the exception of a coin of the same denomination but different die in the collection of Manuel Vidal Quadras y Ramon, of Barcelona, Spain. It is No. 10942, and is illustrated on Plate 78. The latter specimen is much different from the one owned by Mr. Proskey, as it shows an "L" above the upright arm of the cross on the reverse. It also shows the letters "P" and "R" to the left and right of the figure "2." Below the "R" of "RIOXA" on the Proskey specimen is seen the figure "1" of the date "1822." On the Quadras piece this space is occupied by the letter "M." Both have the same date, however, of "1822." The Quadras piece also shows the letter "S" at the left of the horizontal arm of the cross. These pieces have not been referred to before in detail, we believe, and it would be interesting to know something about the circumstances under which they were struck.

Correction.

Henry Chapman of Philadelphia has kindly drawn our attention to an error in the January BULLETIN, where it is stated on the first page that the doubloon of 1819, with mintmark "NR" bore the portrait of Ferdinand VII. The portrait, on the contrary, is that of Charles IV. Apparently the actual bust of Ferdinand VII. did not appear on any of the doubloons issued at the Bogota mint, as the one dated 1819 is the last issued there under Spanish rule. There are quite a number of other instances where the Latin-American coins bore the portraits of a preceding monarch, the real reason in a majority of the cases being that the dies or matrices did not reach the coiners from Spain. Medina, the authority on Chilean coins, states that by royal order of April 30, 1789, cuartillos were to be struck in America, and that Vicerey O'Higgins, in lieu of receipt of dies from Spain, had dies made with the bust of Charles III. on one side and a lion on the other. With the order of Feb. 12, 1793, were sent "tres troqueles con las matrices de dos castillos y dos leones y sus grafilas y dos muestras en plata y ocho en estano de la nueva forma de cuartillos." In substance, three dies with three molds or matrixes of two castles and two lions and their borders, and two samples in silver and eight in tin of the new form of cuartillos. This shows that it was customary to get dies or matrices from Spain. In fact, the royal order of June 9, 1728, issued at Madrid by Philip V. requires that matrices should be sent to all the mints by the chief engraver. The verbatim order is as follows: "Todas las monedas de plata, que se labraren en las Casas de estos mis Reinos, i de los de Indias, seran acunadas en ingenios, o molinos de agua, u de sangre, i de figura circular con un cordoncillo, o laurel al canto, para dificultar por esto medio el cercen, i la falsificacion; i para que no aya variacion alguna en estas, ni en las demas circunstancias de las monedas de plata, que se labraren en las Casas de estos, i de aquellos Reinos se remitiran a todas ellas matrices de la punzoneria de armas, orlas, letras, i grafilas, que se executaran por el Tallador de la Casa de la Corte, o el que con mas primor lo executare, para que precisa, e inviolablemente sigan los demas Talladores de todas las Casas una misma regla en el repartimiento de toda la punzoneria, e inscripciones, para cuya uniforme imitacion se les remitiran monedas executadas en cobre, para que les sirvan de muestras."

Copper Impressions from Honduras Gold Dies.

Coins of Honduras, bearing gold denominations, but struck in copper, are often seen at coin sales, and have excited more or less curiosity by those who take an interest in the issues of Hispanic-America. The denominations of these pieces consist of 1, 2, 4, and 8 pesos, of proportionate diameters, the largest piece being 40mm. in size. The only information we can get regarding these pieces is that obtained from the Coin Collector's Journal of 1881, Page 135, where it is stated that "The successor of Santos Guardiola (the President, General Santos-Guardiola, assassinated on Jan. 11, 1862, at the capital, Comayagua, by the Commandant of his bodyguard, Pablo Agurcia), President Montes, thought to introduce a new system of coinage, on the principle that if copper could be used as a substitute for silver, why could it not be used instead of gold? Accordingly, new dies and proper machinery were ordered from Paris. Upon their arrival a very nice series of coins were produced in copper, but the denominations were for gold, viz.: 1, 2, 4, and 8 pesos, or dollars, varying in diameter from size 12 to 26, (American scale.) The obverse bears the national arms, a conical mountain between two castles which are connected by an arch, beneath the centre of which is a liberty cap surrounded by rays; the whole is backed by a pyramid; the sea washes at the base; surrounding is a circular band inscribed MONEDA PROVISIONAL DEL ESTADO DE HONDURAS—above is a quiver with four arrow-shafts protruding; at each side, suspended from the strap of the quiver, hangs a cornucopia. On the reverse is the same design as on the preceding issues, the tree dividing the value '8 Ps.' Below the mintmark T. 1862, and the mint master's initial 'A.' We are inclined to think the letter "T" stands for the mint of Tegucigalpa, where so many other coins of Honduras have been struck.

An Interesting Philadelphia Store Card.

For many years back catalogues of important collections of store cards have almost invariably listed the above card of the Catch Club, of the denomination of 12½ cents, and the piece has always been regarded as fairly rare and held in much esteem by collectors of the store cards or private issue series. No information as to its reason for being has been forthcoming, although it would be greeted with much interest. It is inferred that the spade-shaped shield on the reverse surrounded by thirteen stars is the emblem of the club. In the upper part of the shield is a ship, in the centre a plow, and in the lower part three objects the nature of which cannot be clearly distinguished on the specimen we have in hand. It seems to be taken for granted that the card is associated with Philadelphia. Can one of our readers give the desired information?

A Cuban Railroad Medal.

The above illustration represents a little railroad medal associated with Cuba. The inscription on the obverse reads: COMPANIA DEL FERRO-CARRIL DE LA BAHIA. Locomotive to right. The reverse reads: HABANA. 1881. Steamboat to the left. The diameter is 20mm. and the metals copper and nickel. Moyaux 585. Moyaux also mentions two other Cuban railroad medals, under Nos. 418 and 419. No. 418 was issued to commemorate the inauguration of the railroad from the Bay of Habana to Matanzas. It was engraved by Charles H. Lovett of New York, and bore his name, "C. H. LOVETT N. Y." The obverse showed a railroad station; below, JUNIO DE MDCCCLVIII. The reverse had the following inscription, in seven lines, inclosed by a wreath of laurel (the first line curved): INAUGURACION DEL FERROCARRIL DE LA BAHIA DE LA HABANA A MATANZAS. Below, "LOVETT N. YORK." Tin. 51mm. The third Cuban railroad medal, Moyaux 419, is associated with Prueba. It is without date. On the obverse is a representation of a locomotive traveling to the right. Above, the inscription FO C1 LA PRUEBA. Below, DE J. CABRERO. On the reverse is a steamboat, the inscription being "1a EMPRESA DE VAPORES DE LA BAHIA. HABANA." Nickel. 22½mm. These, so far as we know, are the only railroad medals associated with the Island of Cuba.

A Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Medal.

So far as we know, this is the first time that the above medal has been illustrated in a numismatic magazine. As the inscription shows, it has been given to an engineer for fifteen years' service, and bears on the obverse a very good representation of a somewhat modern style of locomotive to the right. Judging from the style of construction of the locomotive, we would say that the medal was made some time in the early eighties. This particular medal is in copper, but we infer that it is only a trialpiece, and that the original medal was struck in gold. Other medals for various years' of service have been seen in copper, but not a specimen in any other metal. We would like some information upon this subject.

PUBLICATION IN PREPARATION.

Store Cards of the United States Issued Prior to the Civil War.

---

A full description of this interesting series, embracing about 500 tokens. Includes all those cards issued during the Hard Times period and many others struck at the same time (1833-44) which Mr. Low did not list in his work on account of the absence of date.

The arrangement is by states and each token is given a separate number; where there are issues in differing metals each metal has a number.

We invite subscriptions to this work at once and the character of the publication depends on the number received. If we secure a sufficient number of subscriptions to warrant the expense we will use about 50 to 75 handsome half tone illustrations in the text, if not, the work will have only a few cuts of the rarest pieces.
